

Conference name: The 5th Political Ecology Network Conference 2024 (POLLEN24)

Conference dates: 10th – 12th June, 2024

Conference venue: College of Informatics and Virtual Education, the University of Dodoma

Introduction: The Political Ecology Network (POLLEN) conference will take at the University of Dodoma, Tanzania, hosted by the Department of Geography and Environmental Studies to critically engage with contemporary issues in political ecology focusing on how to think and plan for plural and just futures amidst the unfolding and entwined biodiversity, socio-ecological and climate crises. These crises make the challenge of moving towards more plural and just futures more pressing than ever. By convening the POLLEN24 conference in Dodoma, Tanzania we promote inclusive and participatory exchanges on the role of political ecology in nurturing plural and just socio-ecological futures, for speakers, researchers and activists from across Africa and Asia. The conference will provide a platform to debate and learn about political ecology contributions to seeking plural and just solutions for the crises.

Main theme: Towards Just and Plural Futures

Sub-themes: (i) Political ecologies of epistemic (in)justices, (ii) Political ecologies of climate coloniality and (iii) Political ecologies of nature-based solutions
